FIREFIGHTING PHYSICIAN—Dr. William Bradford of Waveland, a Waveland Fire Department volunteer, Tuesday assists in the attack on a 5 p.m. blaze which destroyed a trailer and shed and partially damaged the Hugh Taylor residence on Elbur Street in Shoreline Park near Bayou LaCrosse. The fire, unreported by neighbors and apparently caused by grass fires in the area, was spotted by Diamondhead security police and Diamondhead Fire Administrator Ed Friloux. A grass fire in a vacant lot next to the damaged structures was reported as origin of the building fires, according to Jay Marsh, chief of the Hancock County Arson Investigation Squad. Bay City Council flooded with drainage complaints

By ELLIS CUEVAS
A host of Bay St. Louis residents Tuesday night appeared before the City Fathers complaining about the lack of drainage in their neighborhoods.
The majority of those complaining were from Spanish Acres Subdivision, with additional complaints coming from residents of the 400 block of Main Street and two families who reside on North Second Street.

Charlie Hirstius acted as spokesman for the group from Spanish Acres and presented a written list of four major grievances from the 97 home owners of the area.

Drainage is foremost among problems concerning residents of Spanish Acres, according to Hirstius.

The spokesman stated: "... Our foremost problem is that of drainage, and we realize that all of you are aware of this problem. However, very little, if anything has been done to correct the situation."

"We are aware of the (3) three most recent surveys and reports that have been made to locate the solution," he continued.

"Standing water in our streets has caused mass deterioration of the asphalt surfacing, and unless they are temporarily repaired immediately, the next good rainfall will only further the deterioration, adding in the long run more to repair costs," he stated.

The most recent survey conducted by James Chiniche, engineer, estimated the cost to cure the drainage problems in the subdivision at approximately $320,000.

The report did make some suggestions of some items which would be done to help eliminate some of the poor drainage by the use of city employees. These items are such as the cleaning of the ditches.

After making the presentation of the grievances, Hirstius commented, "We realize the Council and Mayor are not directly responsible for our problems. All we are here for is help."

Council member Fred Wagner made a motion to have the one and one-half legal sized, single spaced pages of the petition included into the minutes of the meeting and it carried unanimously.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

Hancock County Republicans will conduct precinct caucuses at 10 a.m. Saturday, followed by a County Caucus at 3 p.m. in the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis. For information, call Hildon Shaw at 255-1421 or Evelyn McPhail at 255-1421.

CIVIC ASSOCIATION

The Clermont Harbor Civic Association will meet Saturday at 7 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Roberts on Beach Boulevard. All members are urged to attend.

Councilman Wilmer Seymour stated, "The weekend of the hard rains, since I lived so close to the subdivision, I decided I would go down and take a look during a hard rain. When I approached Spanish Acres, I saw an auto being towed out which had water up to the windows."

"I was going to stop, but, did not have the guts to since I am a councilman for the city," Seymour added.

Another problem faced by the residents is need of a secondary exit because of the conditions as they exist.

"It would be impossible, for an emergency vehicle to enter during the impassable water situation and may be the primary cause of a loss of life," Hirstius said.

Mr. and Mrs. Bart Carr and Dr. and Mrs. Homer Hitt, of Second Street, complained about having water in their yards, even when there is a small amount of rain fall.

Carr allowed, "We had 24 inches of water in our yard on Sunday during the heavy rain fall. I think someone should look into the problem."

His wife added, "Even if there is only a two-inch rain fall, we have 10 inches of water in our yard."

Dr. Hitt gave the Council members some photos of a new chain link fence which was damaged by the water.

"We had about $500 damage to the fence and the debris from the yard next door, which I had requested be cleaned up, washed against my fence and moved it out of line," Dr. Hitt allowed.

Carr said that even right now there is six to eight inches of water in the ditch and that it already has a good start in overflowing before a rain comes.

Mayor Bennett said an investigation into the drainage ditch indicated there was a hold up on Ulman Avenue where

Dr. Louis Jobe retires today

Dr. Louis H. Jobe Jr., district health officer for six southeastern Mississippi counties, retired today with the title of Health Officer Emeritus.

Dr. Jobe was honored Wednesday at a luncheon by the staff of the Hancock County health department.

An open house at the health department on Dunbar Avenue followed the luncheon.

Mayor Larry Bennett presented Dr. Jobe a citation from the City of Bay St. Louis.

Mike Nicaise, Chancery clerk presented a resolution of commendation to the doctor for his work in the county.

In the absence of Mayor John Longo, an honorary citizenship award was presented on behalf of the City of Waveland, by Miss Judy Yarbrough.

Greetings from the United States senators, Congressman Lott from District V, Archie Manning, and members of the State Board of Health were presented along with a plaque from the staff of the health department by Mrs. Inez Pope.

Dr. Jobe began with the State Board of Health on May 18, 1970 after retiring from the United States Army, with 36 years of total military service.

Main Street declaration invalid under statutes

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The emergency resurfacing of Main Street may have failed passage, according to Hancock County Board of Supervisors Attorney Walter Gex.

Gex, when contacted Wednesday afternoon, said based on information he has received, the Bay may not be able to receive the $15,000 voted by the supervisors for the project on Monday.

According to laws governing municipalities, for an emergency to be declared it must be an unanimous vote.

The Bay Council declared the Main Street an emergency last week by a 3-1 vote.

Tuesday night, councilmen Wilmer Seymour, Harry and Jim Thriffliey voted in favor of accepting the $15,000 towards the resurfacing of Main from St. Francis to Second Street.

Councilmen Pete Benvenuti and Fred Wagner voted against the supervisors $15,000 towards the project which was given toward an estimated cost of $20,000 for materials.

The supervisors recommended the firm of Broadway and Seal be used as engineers for the project at a fee of $1,000 for the coordination and supervisor of the resurfacing.

Bay Mayor Larry Bennett stated Wednesday, "I am sorry that it failed, the idea of declaring this an emergency was to save what is left of Main Street. If we have any more hard rains, I don't know what will become of the street. I have no intentions of going in and wasting the taxpayers money by doing any further patch work," Bennett allowed.

Bennett added, "We could have had the street resurfaced at practically no cost to the City and this is why I cannot see continuation of patching this area when I have Spanish Acres where all of the streets have to be repaired and as a matter of fact, there isn't a street in town without need of some repair. Yet we are strapped for funds."

Westinghouse confirms furniture plant location

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Officials of Westinghouse Electric Corp. confirmed during a press conference at the Biloxi Hilton Hotel Wednesday morning the company's architectural systems division will build a multi-million dollar plant on a 183-acre site at the I-10 and Menge Avenue interchange north of Pass Christian.

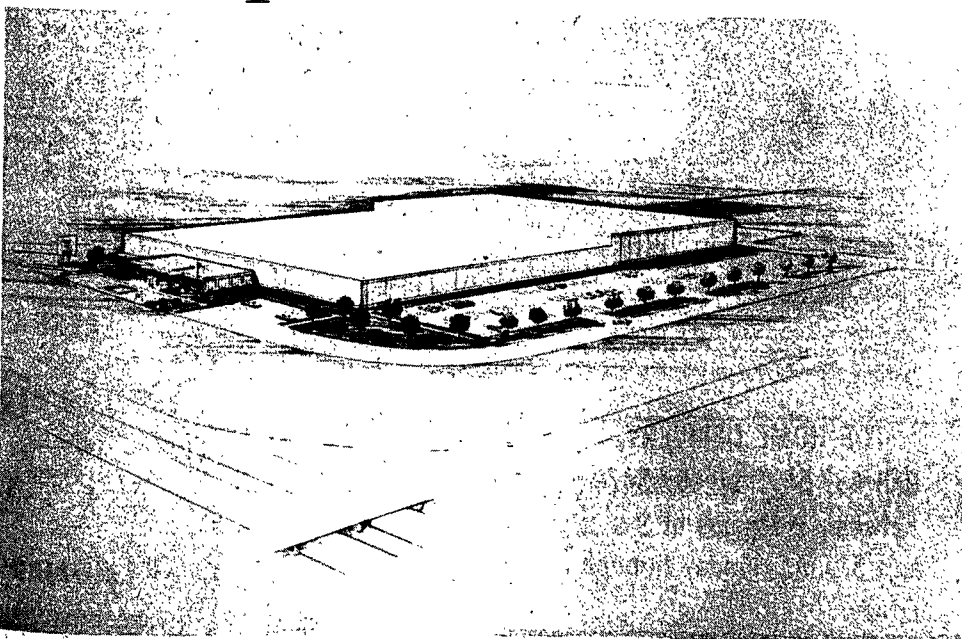

The architectural plant is the third Westinghouse manufacturing facility to locate in the deep south.

Jack Cooper, general manager of the architectural systems division, said Wednesday, "Several satellite service industries will be needed to supply metal components, chipwood core material, textiles, paints and transportation."

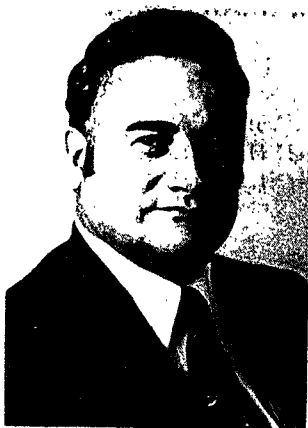

Charles D. Paine, vice president of Westinghouse's southeastern region, reported, "The architectural systems division constructs acoustical panels, shelves and chairs for open-office systems which are flexible, easy-to-arrange furnishings."

James W. Lewis, new plant manager, said Wednesday a "25-member start up team will initially move into the area" to organize the new Westinghouse plant operation.

JAMES W. REWIS

Westinghouse names Rewis plant manager

James W. Rewis will be in charge of the multi-million dollar system furniture manufacturing plant to be built north of Pass Christian by the Westinghouse architectural systems division.

Rewis has been appointed plant manager by G. Jack Cooper, general manager of the division.

The new plant scheduled for operation in the late 1981 will report to division headquarters in Grand Rapids, Mich.

The new facility is located 10 miles west of Gulfport at the intersection of I-10 and Munge Ave.

A native of Mount Pleasant, Tenn., a B.S. degree in industrial management in 1967. He received a master's degree in business administration from the University of Georgia in 1973.

His first position with the company was as associate industrial engineer in distribution transformers in Athens, Ga.

Subsequently, he progressed through a series of engineering and management positions. In 1975, he was named plant manager for the transformer components operations in Smithville, Tenn. In 1978, he moved to Jefferson City, Mo. as manager, manufacturing operations, for underground distribution transformers. Rewis is married and has two children.

Westinghouse.....

The full line production facility represents the largest single investment in the history of Architectural services division, company officers said Wednesday.

Westinghouse entered the systems furniture business in 1970.

Paine, said Wednesday construction of the new plant would begin soon on a 183-acre tract of land.

The plant will contain 370,000 square feet of manufacturing and office space. Production is scheduled to start in the third quarter of 1981.

"We plan to employ some 250 people during the first year of production. Virtually all of them will be from this area. Ultimately, employment is expected to reach approximately 500," Paine said.

Cooper, said the plant, which will increase the division's manufacturing capacity, is necessary for Westinghouse to meet the rapidly

Property owners, city agree on easements

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Ronnie Murray, administrator for the 1979 Bay St. Louis Small Cities project, reported Tuesday night a tentative agreement has been reached with property owners on easements.

Murray said a lift station was moved and that a 25-foot easement instead of a 35-foot one with a 20-foot work right-of-way was settled on tentatively with the property owners.

The easement is needed in order to tie the sewer system in between St. John, Main, State and deMontluzin in the 500 blocks.

The fair market value of the property was accepted at $1,000 for McDonald Realty Company and $3,500 for Hancock Realty Company.

Coast Electric, another property owner, is not asking for any monies from the city for an easement.

Joe Brown III said his firm, engineers for the project, had to make several modifications to the plans and everything should be ready within a few days to advertise if the easements are secured.

In other business, Brown said the contractor for the 1978 Small Cities project had only some cleanup work to do and that the pumping station was activated last week.

Brown requested a 'work shop' meeting with Beta Construction on the 142 calendar days of coverage on the contract for the 1978 Small Cities project.

The contractor apparently has liquidated damages to be assessed against his firm.

Murray, of Gulf Regional Planning Commission, also requested a meeting with the Council on April 29 with the Historical Survey Committee who did a survey last summer in Bay St. Louis.

Red Reinike and Robert Taconi appeared on behalf of the US-90 merchants requesting water service.

Board attorney Joseph Gex advised the Council they would have to pass a resolution on the nature and intent of the work and specifications. Then the Council would have to set a date for the public hearing on the front foot assessment for partial payment of the installation of the water line. Gex said if 51 percent of the front foot of property owners did not object, the City could go ahead with the water line installation.

Reinike asked the Council if they would put the fact that if the City found ways of paying for the entire project, the owners would not be charged for the assessment. Gex said that would have to be discussed at the public hearing.

Taconi wanted to know how the sewer system was extended across the highway on Washington Street and was told that the monies used on the extension was a grant for the 1978 Small Cities and was money left over from the original project.

Benvenuti told the two merchants there was a grant applied for by the Council for water service on US-90 but it was turned down.

Council accepted a proposal by Brown Engineers to do a preliminary application to Farmers Home Administration for a grant for water and sewer service to all areas of the Bay with the services.

In other matters, Gex reported he had contacted Bob Joiner, the State Highway commissioner, on the matter of the speed limit on US-90 in the city limits.

The attorney reported to make a change would have to go before the three state commissioners.

Council requested the commissioner be notified their request of having the speed limit reduced to 40 miles per hour for the entire city limits starting at approximately the center of the Bay bridge.

Council's reason was because of the congestion of local as well as passing through traffic and in some areas six lanes of traffic.

Council accepted the bid from Schuffert Pontiac for the purchase of a pickup truck upon recommendation by Billy Johnston, utilities superintendent.

A body bid by Truck Equipment Sales, Theodore, Ala. was also the best bid according to Kelly McQueen, city clerk.

Council recessed the meeting in order for them to be called on the easements of the 1979 Small Cities Project whenever they become available.

HOME-BLUECHIP INVESTMENT
Despite all the talk these days about protecting your dollar, sound investments and hedges against inflation, the purchase of a home is seldom mentioned. Yet, a well-built home in a good neighborhood is one of the best hedges against inflation your money can buy.
In the recent years of inflation, for example, home and land values have more than kept abreast of the general rise in prices. This means your home investment puts you considerably ahead of the game financially. Not to mention the pride and pleasure that home ownership can bring you.
There is no reason to believe that this situation will change in the near (or not-so-near future.) The government's tight money policies have put a crimp into single family home building starts during the past few years but the demand for these homes is constantly increasing. So, it looks like prices will continue to rise. Add to this the tax benefit of home ownership which allow you to keep more of what you earn. Look for the best home your money can buy and enjoy your inflation hedge.

growing demand for systems furniture.

"Despite continuing expansion of our manufacturing facilities over the last few years, the architectural services divisions outstanding growth in sales in the past, and even more explosive growth facing us in the future, has necessitated such a major addition to our capacity," said Cooper.

"It is the consensus of industry experts that the rapid growth of our market will continue into the 1980's. This is mainly due to some compelling economic reasons for users to substitute systems furniture for conventional furniture," the general manager said.

"This Gulf Coast site was one of many evaluated by Westinghouse. The corporation analyzed numerous factors. These included labor availability, transportation, state training programs, tax structures, education systems, community lifestyle, climate as well as many others," Cooper reported.

Cooper complimented the Harrison County Board of Supervisors and Gulfport Mayor Jack Barnett, as well as the Harrison County Development Commission, the Mississippi Department of Economic Development, and Vic Daniel, president of the Mississippi Power Company, for their guidance and assistance in this project.

He also paid special thanks to Bob Daniels, manager of the Industrial Development Department of the Mississippi Power Company, and his staff for their hard work in this effort, and to Bob Galloway for his legal advice and assistance.

"The contributing factor in selecting Harrison County was its nearness to major markets and with location of this new plant we will be able to minimize costs on critical items such as transportation and overhead, Cooper explained. Company officials said the architectural systems division headquarters will remain in Grand Rapids, where Westinghouse has a 380,000 square foot plant.

"Grand Rapids continues to be important in our plans for the future. In fact, we have a multi-million dollar modernization and expansion program underway there now. We're adding 200,000 square feet to the facility," Cooper said.

"Both Gulfport and Grand Rapids will play important roles in meeting the growing customers, we need additional manufacturing facilities," Cooper stated.

"In order to meet this increasing demand and to better serve our future needs of our customers," Cooper added.

Open office furniture from the Westinghouse Architectural Systems Division will be on display at the Edgewater Mall. Beginning today and remain at the mall until May 8.

The display will show the types of products that will be manufactured in the Harrison County plant.

Open office furniture consists of free-standing panels on which any number of components can be hung. Components range from work surfaces (desks), wardrobes, drafting tables, files and shelves.

Officials ok $4 million Alcan expansion bonds

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors, at a Monday recess meeting, approved a 'memorandum of agreement' with Alcan Cable Co. to issue $4 million of industrial revenue bonds for doubling the production of the cable company's Bay St. Louis plant.

In connection with that agreement, the county officials also passed a resolution requesting the Mississippi Board of Economic Development to issue 'a certificate of public convenience and necessity for industrial development in Hancock County.'

Milo Oakland, Alcan Cable Co. vice president from Atlanta, reported at the Monday meeting, "Alcan Cable has annual sales of over $100 million."

"We're proud of our plant in Hancock County which has been visited by businessmen from all over the world," Oakland said.

"Our plant was designed for two-phase construction. Since January, the present plant has been operating at its design capacity and for every person we brought in (from outside the county) we hired 10 people from Hancock County," the Alcan vice president stated.

"We are anxious to begin the second phase which will add to our present $5 million operation. We will double production at our Bay St. Louis plant, but won't quite double employment—we will employ 25 more people," Oakland reported.

"I'm here to ask for your endorsement of our project," Oakland added.

Jack Lyle of Birmingham, Ala., representing the brokerage firm of Hendricks, Moore and Yardley, said, "Our company does industrial bond reviews."

"We are requesting a resolution from you to the Board of Economic Development and a memorandum of agreement between the board of supervisors and Alcan stating a willingness to issue bonds," Lyle reported.

"The county will have absolutely no liability by agreeing to issue bonds and Alcan will pay all expenses if the bond issue doesn't go through," Lyle added.

Mayor Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis stated, "Alcan has had a direct effect on our city's economy. I would like to personally prevail on the board for an endorsement of the project."

Walter Gex, board of supervisor's attorney, asked Bennett, "The city has no objections to handling this matter?"

Bennett replied, "No and the city is grateful for the county doing this."

In other business, at the 9 a.m. meeting at the County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, the board: —Approved 16th Section land lease agreements with R.H. Harrington for $322 and cancelled a lease on the same property with Charles B. Green; Gary Carver for $107; Donald Olson for $72; John Lee III for $108; Willie Burns for $150; Adolph Collins for $108; Venessa Lee for $108; Don Lee for $60; and L.B. Bits-N-Pieces

By Ellis Cuevas

Well, we hope we have it right this time. Saturday night, or sometime Sunday morning, we have to set our clocks one hour ahead.

I know we goofed last Fall, and received numerous telephone calls and comments about the rule of 'Spring forward' and Fall backward, which I doubt we will ever forget.

We hope all of you will heed the reminder to set your clocks ahead Sunday morning.

We have received reports from a member of the Humane Society about dogs following students to one of our schools and officials are concerned about the welfare of the students.

We must realize the best place for a dog is in the yard of the owner. We can see the possible dangers when several dogs get together.

They could get into a big fight and the owners would naturally try and break it up. In trying to break up the dog fight, the boys and girls who are owners of these dogs could end up being bitten.

We ask parents to please make sure your child's pet dog stays at home when the master is at school.

Spring is all around us now that the rains have ceased, at least we hope they have for awhile.

We hope you will take the opportunity to visit Christ Episcopal's Annual Spring Festival Saturday.

There will be a lot of activities and also some very good food on the agenda.

The Festival will be held at 912 South Beach on the grounds of Christ Episcopal Day school and will begin at 11 a.m.

Congratulations are in order to our longtime friend Perry Gibson who was honored Tuesday for 40 years of service with Mississippi Power Company.

Perry, a resident of Waveland and manager of the Mississippi Power office in Bay St. Louis, has been very active in many facets of our communities since he came to our area twelve years ago.

A two-time president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the Mississippi State Park Commission, he currently serves on the Hancock General Hospital Board. He is very active in his church and has been one of our best citizens since his arrival.

We know he will enjoy the brass lantern he received from Mississippi Power and also the fancy brass pen holder his employees gave him when the big cake and surprise party took place.

Working for one firm a total of 40 years is a very long time, and we hope Gibson will put in another 40 as he is a credit to Hancock County.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

I want to advertise, I need to advertise, but I just don't have time to work out a regular program. A Busy Retailer.

Dear ABR: Like those too busy for medical checkups, equipment maintenance schedules, or occasional workshop sessions; if you are lucky, sooner or later, you'll have time.

If not, it won't make any difference. For these things have a way of taking care of themselves in the long run.

Being busy is not a reason, it's an excuse. For the busiest retailers are those who advertise—which is no accident.

Maybe you're busy doing the wrong things, but more likely you subconsciously keep too busy in order to avoid managerial duties.

The most painless way to develop an overall program is to do it once a year, or once a season as you make overall plans for your store.

An annual plan usually works best, but it should detail by season, month, week and day, items and promotions.

Keep the schedule and file copies of each promotion by dates (include the original print material used, if your newspaper doesn't do this for you.) Next year will be easier, for you can simply update and modify this year's schedule.

Maintain records of results and try to figure out why the less successful didn't work better than they did. With files and records your next year is not only scheduled, it is partially tested.

When new products or lines are added, include advertising promotion in your planning. Ask for, and demand, print materials and in-store displays in advance, so they can be plugged into the annual schedule before the last minute.

Advertising is not a separate function of management. It fits neatly into the whole planning, pricing, promotion and eventual profit cycle.

So your problem is not shortage of time as it relates to advertising. You simply need to include an advertising plan into the overall management of your business.

COULD BE HAZARDOUS—Residents of Spanish Acres Subdivision in Bay St. Louis are concerned about having only one entrance to the subdivision. Recent rains caused a sewer cave-in which made it almost impossible for some residents to come and go. There is a serious need for a second entrance to the subdivision, as a sewer cave-in could cause the complete closing of the only entrance and in an emergency someone could be unable to get medical help. What would happen if a residence were to catch on fire and the fire trucks were unable to answer a call because of a sewer cave-in? We feel residents in the 100 or so homes in the subdivision have good reason to gripe about the lack of a second entrance as well as several other problems like the lack of proper drainage.

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL — THE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

IN SUPPORT OF EDUCATION

The M.B. Swayze Foundation and the American Enterprise Center, two programs that make up the educational arm of the Mississippi Economic Council, have a year after their creation—made substantial progress in each of their program areas.

They are:
—helping the people of the state understand and appreciate the importance of the American enterprise system to freedom and prosperity;
—encouraging support for quality in education in Mississippi; and —identifying, motivating, and training leaders who can make significant contributions to the development of the state.

Some of the plans under way include in-service training for teachers which will be available this summer, establishment of a resource center for materials on free enterprise and economic education, and sponsorship of an ETV series called "Pennywise," which provides the basic concepts of economics and free enterprise for elementary students.

Both the Foundation and Center are being funded by private means, and the educational materials and expertise offered are at no expense to the taxpayer. Those funding the programs are concerned members of the business and professional community in Mississippi, and educators are urged to make use of the offerings of the Foundation and Center.

Others in the state are encouraged to learn more of the activities of the Foundation and Center, as the very foundation of the freedom we Americans prize so highly is based on our economic system—American enterprise.

FOREIGN DEADBEATS

Washington Report

By REP. TRENT LOTT
5th District, Mississippi

If our State Department collected money owed to the United States by foreign nations with the same zeal shown by the Internal Revenue Service in collecting from delinquent taxpayers, we probably wouldn't have a shocking imbalance of payments.

Yet, even as Congress is asked to approve another $9 billion or so in foreign aid, the administration does nothing to collect more than $73 billion owed by the foreign deadbeats the U.S. is supporting.

The Treasury Department says that 169 countries and territories, plus 19 international institutions and regional groups, owe money to Uncle Sam. It isn't surprising because America is the most generous nation on earth.

During the 20th Century, the United States has handed out roughly $214 billion to a wide variety of foreign aid programs. The figure translates to about $53 for every man, woman and child living in the world today.

The U.S. still hasn't collected more than $27 billion in World War I debts, and post-World War II debts are more than double that amount. When contingent liabilities are added to the total debt, the potential debt risk comes to a staggering $86 billion.

American taxpayers have the largest stake in the loans provided to the rest of the world, and the taxpayers stand to lose because of the failure to collect on outstanding debts.

The Department of State, charged with the responsibility of collecting foreign debts, has been grossly negligent. Instead of demanding repayment, the State Department either forgives or reschedules many debts, so much so that accumulated four percent interest on World War I debts now exceeds the principal.

The State Department's pathetic handling of the matter is best illustrated by the story of how it "settled" a debt with the Soviet Union. Totally written off was $9 billion of lend-lease aid to Russia during World War II. The State Department decided to collect another $2.6 billion owed America, but settled for only three cents on the dollar (plus another 24 cents provided that we loaned Russia the money to repay).

The list of debtors is a long one. Cuba, for example, owes $2.8 million. OPEC nations owe millions, too, despite the fact that Americans pay outrageous prices for OPEC's only product—petroleum.

American taxpayers are expected to honor their commitments to the federal government and, indeed, our children are instilled with the idea that if they borrow something they have to pay it back.

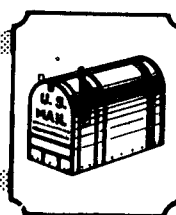

Our government should demand no less of the foreign nations it so generously supports.

Health Tip

From the American Medical Association

Mississippi has the highest rate of new tuberculosis cases in the continental United States, according to a recent State Board of Health report. State physicians will hear a discussion of the problem during the 112th Annual Session of the Mississippi State Medical Association, which begins April 27 in Biloxi.

Dr. Laurence S. Farer of Atlanta, director of the Tuberculosis Control Division of the Center for Disease Control, will present "Tuberculosis - Still a Serious Problem" during one of three major scientific programs scheduled during the five-day convention.

A faculty of 20 other medical speakers from four states will conduct postgraduate courses covering such topics as "Death and Dying," "Update on Breast Cancer," "Advances in Medical Genetics," "Low Back Pain," and "Management of Pain and Therapy in Cancer." More than 50 scientific and technical exhibits will be on display during the week.

Besides providing Mississippi physicians with an opportunity to attend accredited continuing medical education courses, the MSMA Annual Session also includes meetings of the association's House of Delegates. The 140-member policy-making body will take action on reports and resolutions concerning health care in Mississippi and will elect new association officers.

Featured speaker for the opening session of the House of Delegates on Monday, April 28, is Dr. Tom E. Nesbitt of Nashville, Tennessee, immediate past president of the American Medical Association.

Highlighting the association's membership banquet will be an address by nationally noted ABC news commentator Howard K. Smith.

The Annual Session of the 1800-member Mississippi State Medical Association; the Mississippi Radiological Society; the Mississippi Obstetrics-Gynecology Society; the Mississippi Medical Fraternity and Educational Society; the Mississippi Foundation for Medical Care; and the Mississippi chapters of the American Academy of Pediatrics, American College of Surgeons, and American Academy of Family Physicians.

Congressman

THAD

Washington Report

In an effort to combat the fastest growing crime in the United States arson-for-profit, U.S. Senator Thad Cochran (R-Miss.) is co-sponsoring legislation to make this offense a federal crime.

Said Cochran, "About 1,000 persons die in arson fires every year and 10,000 more are injured with a total property loss of over $2 billion. Many of these arsonists are businessmen who burn down valuable property for their insurance value."

Currently state and local law enforcement agencies lack the resources to investigate this growing crime. In bringing arson-for-profit under federal jurisdiction, Cochran said the law will allow federal investigators and prosecutors to target their resources directly against this type of arsonist.

Further the legislation will impose prison sentences of up to 10 years and fines of up to $100,000, both for the actual arsonist and the person who hires the arsonist. Additionally, courts may order the guilty parties to make restitution.

"The present inadequacy for arson enforcement can only encourage corrupt businessmen and professional torches to increase their criminal activities," said Cochran.

"It is imperative that this crime be brought under control or it will continue to endanger the physical and financial stability of America's cities."

there are only two small culverts which cannot handle all the water.

Mayor Bennett said installation of a 48-inch culvert in addition to the ones already there would probably help some in the flooding at the two residences.

Council authorized the Mayor to have the city workers install the pipe at a material cost of about $1,500.

Bennett also said the area which is a natural drain needs some cleaning out where it crosses Second Street close to US-90 and that a large backhoe would be needed to clean the drain.

Leroy Bourgeois and neighbors, who appeared before the council earlier this month about an open ditch flooding their property, were back again in force.

An estimate to close the ditch ran $10,615 for galvanized and $16,500 for concrete culverts which the Council reported it did not have at this time.

The Spanish Acres group also once again requested closing of the Webb Street dump.

Council President Pete Benvenuti stated the city had officially closed the dump about six months ago. Council went on record to follow proper procedure in notifying the owners of the dump of the property being a health menace.

The owners will have to clean up the dump within a certain period or a public hearing will be advertised for and held.

If the property owner does not respond, the city will contract to have it cleaned and assess the amount to the owner's property taxes.

A fourth area the Spanish Acres residents were concerned over was the fact they lacked a play area for the children of the subdivision.

Several of the homes in the 400 block of Main Street had water in them and had damages to contents of sheds and also autos flooded out.

One woman said she lost all the insulation under her residence because of the high water.

The group pushed for some help from the council and said they would return.

Council urged all residents having personal and property damages to please notify the City Hall.

Councilman Fred Wagner reported he had contacted Congressman Trent Lott and was told the procedure of having to make application through the governor's office for the city and then it would be passed onto the President in order for the area to be declared a disaster.

Lou Boudreaux, a resident of the subdivision commented, "When I moved into the subdivision 12 years ago, there were only 24 homes, and the only way the ditches got cleaned by my home is if I clean them myself and I am a heart patient."

"If $500 a month would have been put away each month since then, we would have $60,000 now to work with, but all we do is talk and talk," he continued.

One resident stated, "You cannot make water run uphill and I can show you in the subdivision where the water cannot get to the drainage ditches."

Michael Ham said, "I have lived two years in the subdivision and right now there is water standing in the streets and it has been sometime since the rain."

Hirstius questioned, "I understand there was $30,000 allocated in the budget for drainage and wonder why, as we have read the money was going to be used for the moving of a sidewalk which would effect six or eight people, when you have 97 families with serious drainage problems in Spanish Acres."

John Mason held his hand above his knees to display the depth of the water in the center of the street in front of his residence.

Joe Bermond questioned the fact that for several months he has had to listen to a pump run next to his home because the lift station pump has been out of commission.

Mayor Bennett told the group that Schuengel's Machine Shop is having problems securing parts for the pumps which are being overhauled.

Benvenuti commented that he thought the pump would be repaired in 14 days and it has been over two months.

In commenting on the Webb Street dump, one resident commented on how some of the trash may have been thrown into the dump by residents of the subdivision.

A three man committee consisting of Mayor Bennett, Councilmen Seymour and Wagner was designated to make a study of the Spanish Acres problems.

Council held a brief recess of the meeting after the many folks appearing about poor drainage left the council chambers.

It was hard to count the number in attendance as the chambers and outside hall at City Hall were standing room only.

County, cities, park seek disaster money

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County's McLeod Park and the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland have joined with the county's board of supervisors in seeking state disaster funds to repair damages resulting from recent severe storm systems affecting this area.

However, a county-wide assessment of storm damage has not yet been completed.

Don Murray, representing County Engineer Lawrence Seal, said at a Monday recess supervisor's meeting, "It will take two or three weeks to get all the figures for a final report."

Board Attorney Walter Gex asked Murray, "Do you have all the information you need to apply for disaster funds?"

Murray replied, "Yes, everything except the park's claims."

The supervisor's voted Monday morning to declare Main Street in Bay St. Louis an emergency and contributed $15,000 to repave the thoroughfare from St. Francis Street to Second Street.

The Bay St. Louis project money will be drawn from Beats Three, Four and Five severance tax funds with Broadway and Seal Engineers of Picayune the designated project engineers.

The Bay St. Louis City Council recently declared Main Street an emergency as suggested by Gex at a prior supervisor's meeting.

Also Monday, the supervisors accepted a letter from Mayor John Longo of Waveland listing $205,000 of various damages due to recent severe storms.

Longo lists $60,000 damage to the city's sewer system due to cave-ins and broken pipes; $25,000 damage to electric motors and pumps; $25,000 damage to drainage systems; $85,000 in street repairs; and $10,000 damage to the civic center.

The board also agreed Monday to include McLeod Park in its disaster fund request.

Park Commissioners Mary Caillier and Delmar Wilcox requested the park's erosion damage, due to recent flooding along the Jourdan River bordering the park, be included in county's fund request.

Seal reported the beach road restoration project was authorized, but was still not funded.

"We will not receive funds for the beach road repairs until October," the county engineer said.

"Don Murray told me he talked with Emory Shaw of the State Highway Department requesting a supplemental appropriation be made for the beach road," Seal added.

In another matter at the Monday meeting, the supervisors authorized the transfer of approximately $12,000 from a Beat Four bond fund to Beat Four's road and bridge fund.

Noah's Ark explorers tie discovery to prophecies

By RICH ADAMS

Two members of the Institute for Restoring Ancient History, a group involved in excavating what it believes are remnants of Noah's Ark in Turkey, will present a slide presentation at the Bay St. Louis Gulf National Bank community room Friday night at 7 p.m.

Bruce Innes and Ian Armstrong of Frankston, Texas, said Monday the presentation will deal with recent developments in the excavation at Mount Ararat, Turkey, where the ark is located on the cliff of a dormant volcanic canyon deeper than the Grand Canyon.

Both men have been to the excavation site 10 times as members of the institute, but in recent years strained diplomatic relations between Russia, Turkey, and the United States have prevented further studies.

Armstrong said he and Innes hope to demonstrate how restoration of the ark will fulfill Biblical prophecies.

"When certain works of God are restored and shown to mankind, Jesus Christ shall return," Armstrong said Monday.

"And He shall send Jesus Christ, whom the Heavens must receive, with the times of restitution of all things which God has spoken through the mouths of all His prophets since the world began," Armstrong quoted from the scripture.

"We believe that before Jesus Christ can return to the earth, six major items must be restored," Innes said.

"The old city of Adam, located on the Jordan River across from Jericho, must be restored; the Great Stone of Able-Bethshemish, which bridges Noah's Ark and the Tower of Babel, must be restored in addition to the Tower and the Ark," he continued.

"The fifth item is the promise to Abraham to restore the Kingdom of Israel, and the final item is the Ark of the Covenant, which holds the tablets of the 10 Commandments, manna, and the Rod of Aaron," Innes explained.

Innes said the Ark of the Covenant is located on Mount Nebo in Jordan, but a recent expedition to excavate the items was cancelled with the Iranian uprising.

"One reason for excavating Noah's Ark is to find out the size of a window running the length of the ship, because the cubic measurement of that window is crucial in restoring the temple in Jerusalem," Innes explained.

"We feel as it was in Noah's day, so it is now," Innes continued.

"The world today, as it was then, is continually corrupt and evil, murder is running rampant, and we believe this will increase in the immediate years to come," he said.

"We know God made judgement on man then because of what man was doing, and we believe God will soon make judgement again," Innes added.

Innes said Friday's presentation, open to the public free of charge, will also tell how the fabled lost city of Atlantis ties in with Biblical times.

"Cyclopan and Atlantic migration will also be discussed at this time," Innes added.

Investigators arrest Bay man in boat theft

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Aron Bounds, 21, of 810 Washington St. in Bay St. Louis was arrested by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Friday and charged with the theft of fiberglass boat, motor and trailer owned by John Avery of First and Whale Streets in Shoreline Park.

Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson said, "Bounds was released on a $5,000 property bond and the stolen property was recovered."

Tuesday night Bounds appeared in justice court before Justice Court Judge John Chevis Jr.

"Bounds came before the court and was read the charges. He said he would like a two-week continuance so he could hire his own lawyer," Chevis said Wednesday afternoon.

Chevis said a preliminary hearing has been set for May 6.

Peterson reported, "A neighbor saw the boat being stolen about 2 p.m. Thursday, but we initially got a report from Avery, the boat owner who has a summer home in Shoreline Park."

"He reported a boat was stolen from his yard," Peterson said.

"Chief Investigating Officers Delbert Seay and Alvin Ladner were assigned to the case," the sheriff added.

Ladner reported, "A 16-foot Cruise Craft, fiberglass boat, a 65-horsepower outboard motor and a boat trailer were stolen."

"We recovered the stolen property the next day at Bounds' garage at his 810 Washington St. home. The boat had already been repainted and the serial numbers had been removed from the boat, motor and trailer," Ladner explained.

Peterson said, "We received a tip from a citizen about the stolen property and the matter was pursued by our investigators."

The sheriff added he received a letter, thanks from Avery for the quick recovery of his property.

Retirement money woes plague former sheriff

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Former Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner appeared at a Monday recess meeting of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors again requesting assistance to secure his retirement pay.

Ladner stated, "I was told to come up here on this retirement money thing."

Board Attorney Walter Gex replied, "From what I've been able to determine I was requested by the board of supervisors to do two things."

"I contacted the Public Employees Retirement System requesting reasons for former Hancock County Clerk John Rutherford's retirement program and to check the status of your retirement," Gex explained.

"According to the check that was sent to Rutherford, covering a period from 1960 to 1979, he was paid $14,228," Gex said.

"There was a check sent to the Retirement System of which the amount was arrived at through information sent to that agency," Gex said.

"They calculated what portion was to be paid by the county and by Rutherford," the attorney stated.

"The county approved and paid retirement for Rutherford amounting to $13,842. That check included the time Rutherford performed a menial job for the County School Board and held the office of veteran's service officer in 1971—the county paid the employees portion of $385," Gex explained.

"Rutherford paid the employee's portion and the county paid the county's share for his retirement," Gex added.

"As far as your (Ladner's) application, the only one I've seen covered a period from 1956 to 1959. That period of time was when the sheriff was on a fee system," the attorney stated.

"I spoke with Bobby Malley, in the retirement office, who worked up both applications and he said your (Ladner's) application was processed based on the information turned in to them," Gex said.

Ladner reported, "I spoke with a lady in that office and she said I paid $758 and the county paid $948 plus I had interest of 5 1/2 percent."

Gex replied, "I spoke with Malley and there was no way, from the information he had, he could determine what was a fee or a county warrant."

"I called the district attorney and he said anything paid on a county warrant is eligible for county participation. I do not know whether or not you have this information," Gex said.

"Some $948 is what the county would owe and you would owe a proportionate share on the interest. It was my understanding if you will go back and clarify this matter PERS would be able to pay your retirement. They could not pay you anything based on the information they have received," Gex explained.

Ladner replied, "Bud Collier of the PERS office did all this for Rutherford. He's furnished this information to him, why can't he do this for me?"

The supervisor's attorney explained further, "I'm not in a position to judge the PERS. Rutherford packaged up all the necessary information and hand carried it to Jackson. Rutherford also said he would help you organize this information for the PERS."

A. A. (Dolph) Keller, Board of Supervisors president, said, "I'm sure this board is more than willing to pay its share of your retirement."

Ladner reported, "I checked the supervisor's minute books and the $9,000 was added later with a different typewriter."

Chancery Clerk E. Michael Necaise said, "I'll look through the county office warrants to get that information for you."

Gex reiterated, "What the PERS did for Rutherford was a result of what he did and the records he brought to Jackson."

District One Supervisor Bert Courge stated, "Just looking at what we paid Rutherford, our share of his retirement money was around 55 percent."

Gex explained, "Any money you (Ladner) received on the fee system is ineligible for retirement money participation. You will get credit for your fee income, but the county can't participate unless Jackson has the right information."

Board Secretary Jim Pfeiffer said in response to Ladner's charge that the supervisor's minute books had an additional entry made in regard to the former sheriff's retirement money from the county, "I have about three different type faces I can use on my typewriter and I would just like to make it clear that the minute books were not altered in any way."

Ladner replied, "Well, I still say this was not originally in the minute books."

District Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner said, "We moved to pay our share of your retirement money and it was recorded in the minutes."

Mr. John W. Tapp is shown accepting delivery of his new Chevrolet El Camino from Turan-Lane Chevrolet Salesman John Lowe.

"I needed a truck for use in my business, Biloxi Auto Parts, and I was shopping the coast for a truck that fitted my needs best, and I wanted immediate delivery. I was greeted by Salesman John Lowe. John had an El Camino that I liked very much. The El Camino had been serviced and was ready to go and I took delivery the same day. I recommend John Lowe for a good deal and courteous treatment."

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER & CROP REPORT

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY
WEATHER & CROP
REPORT

Week Ending:
April 13, 1980

WEATHER SUMMARY
(National Weather Service):
A frontal system traversed the state Monday and Tuesday bringing rain to all sections but totals averaged less than one inch. Corinth reported hail along with some damage from a small tornado.

A strong, slow-moving storm spread rain back into Mississippi on Friday and the rain persisted throughout the weekend. All sections of the state were drenched by this storm, and totals up to about ten inches noted across central and southern sections. The heaviest 24-hour total was reported at Jackson (8.11 inches) ending at 7 a.m. on the 12th. In addition, flash flooding was extensive and Gulfport sustained damage from a tornado on the 13th.

Temperatures averaged several degrees below normal over central and western counties but were near normal elsewhere. Extremes ranged from 32 at Tupelo and University on the 10th to 83 at Columbia on the 8th and Wiggins on the 9th.

CROP SUMMARY: Farmers moved along rapidly early in the week with land preparation and applying fertilizer and herbicides. By week's end heavy rains stopped all fieldwork and caused extensive flooding in low lying areas, particularly in central and south central parts of the state.

Soil moisture was mostly surplus. There were 3.2 days suitable for fieldwork early in the week compared to 8 of a day last week and 1.2 days for the same week last year.

Spring land preparation continues to lag behind last year with 33 percent of the land plowed compared to 47 percent last year and 59 percent for the five-year average. About 1 percent of the cotton acreage has been planted.

Dry weather allowed rice planting to move along rapidly during the week with 20 percent of the crop planted compared to 1 percent last year.

Corn acreage was 25 percent planted compared to 35 percent last year and 36 percent for the five-year average. Ten percent of the corn planted was up to stand. The crop was in fair condition.

Winter wheat was 78 percent jointing, the same as last year, and 8 percent headed compared to 3 percent last year. The crop was in good to fair condition. Watermelons were 31 percent planted compared to 65 percent last year. Peaches were in fair to good condition.

Livestock and pastures were in good to fair condition. Fuel supplies were adequate.

COMMENTS

TUNICA CO. "Farmers getting in trouble because of excessive rains. Cotton land needs rowing up badly."

YALOBUSHA CO. "Farmers hit the field running this week. A great deal of land has been broken. We need the soil to warm up."

UNION CO. "Some corn planted this week. Cotton ground being run over with disk. Plans for planting."

Waveland suspends policeman

Waveland policeman Chris Sand has been suspended from duty until the outcome of a hearing before Judge Horatio Frierson on May 6, according to Chief Donald Dorn.

Sand was charged with two counts of uttering forgery by Matt Karl, owner of Bay-Waveland Carpets, on Saturday, April 19.

He was arrested by Waveland Investigators Robert (Poochy) Tartavouille and Sandra Henley and is out on bond.

Dorn said the forgery involved the use of Karl's checks on the carpet company where Sands was a part-time salesperson.

"You know a person is innocent until proven guilty, and I am going to wait until the trial on May 6 before any further action is taken," Chief Dorn said Wednesday.

"Escape to Athena"...and Escape the Commercial on Home Box Office.

Here's big movie action, just the way you like it—uncut and uninterrupted. Telly Savalas, David Niven, Richard Roundtree, and Roger Moore star in "The Cheap Detective," "Heaven Can Wait," and "An Evening With Lou Rawls." Look to HBO for your best bargain in commercial-free home entertainment.

Bay native Belhaven Alumnus of the Year

The presentation of the Alumnus of the Year Award to Dr. Janice Eldridge Languirand of Bay St. Louis climaxed recent Homecoming festivities at Belhaven College.

President Verne R. Kennedy made the presentation of the prestigious award citing Dr. Languirand for her good cheer, indomitable courage and her extraordinary contributions to scientific research.

Dr. Languirand received the B.S. degree from Belhaven in 1940 and began her career by teaching and coaching in high schools in Louisiana and Mississippi. Her attention was then turned to rearing a family of five children (four boys and one girl).

While faithfully attending her family, she was able to shoulder the demands of pursuing professional degrees. She received the Master's degree, and RN and in 1978, the Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Mississippi.

News from the Church of St. Ann

A thought for the day from the library of Father Canicus Hayes, Pastor.

Happiness is like a butterfly.

The more you chase it, the more it will elude you.

But if you turn your attention to other things, it comes and softly sits on your shoulder.

According to Sr. Mary Cornelis, religious coordinator, a Penance Service for children of the parish receiving the sacrament for the time will be held immediately after school Thursday, May 1 at St. Ann's Church.

The children will receive their First Holy Communion Saturday, May 3 during the 5 p.m. mass.

Mrs. Madonna Boos, chairman, reports the weekend spaghetti and meatball dinner was a huge success. She wishes to thank all who contributed in any way and supported this prefall activity. Father Hayes, also, expresses his appreciation to everyone.

On Saturday, May 17 St. Ann-St. John's will sponsor a yard sale in St. Ann's Parish Hall and church grounds. The parishioners are collection clothing, furniture, toys, household items or any usable articles for this event. Anyone wishing to help may do so by bringing their donations to the rectory.

West Hancock VFD elects new officers

The West Hancock Volunteer Fire Department of Pearllington recently held election of officers.

The new officers are Clem

Delacroix, re-elected fire chief; Dwayne Copeland, Assistant fire chief, Sue Hale, re-elected secretary; and Doretta Hamilton, re-elected treasurer.

Republican Women to honor Seniors

Hancock County Republican Women will meet Thursday, May 1 at the Diamondhead Country Club to celebrate Senior Citizen Month.

Prizes will be given for the oldest mother or father present, grandmother with the most great-grand children, mother with most grand-children and the youngest mother present.

Door prizes also will be awarded.

A short business meeting at 11 a.m. will precede the luncheon.

Members planning to attend should call Ruby Life at 467-8503 or Evelyn McPhil at 255-1421.

DR. JANICE LANGUIRAND

"It is with great pride and honor that Belhaven College presents the Alumnus of the Year Award to Dr. Languirand as a token of the respect the College holds for her," said Kennedy.

Governor William F. Winter was keynote speaker for the Homecoming banquet. Belhaven College is a four-year coeducational college of liberal arts and sciences located in Jackson. Founded in 1883, the college is related to the Presbyterian church.

4-H leaders meet at USM Gulf Park

Facing the challenges and excitement of the '80s as an adult volunteer 4-H leader will be emphasized as leaders from southeast Mississippi gather at the Gulf Park Campus-University of Southern Mississippi in Long Beach April 25-26.

"Planned by the State 4-H Volunteer Planning Committee, this workshop is the first of its kind in the state," explains Jean Crane, 4-H youth development specialist, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Keynote speaker is Howard Langfitt of Jackson, executive vice president, Electric Power Association of Mississippi, Inc. Langfitt has been a member of the Mississippi 4-H Advisory Council and the Mississippi 4-H Foundation for numerous years.

He is a past president of the Mississippi Agricultural Workers' Coordinating Council and the Mississippi Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

In 1976, Langfitt received the Distinguished Service Award from the Mississippi Association of County Agricultural Agents.

Robert E. Wall, director of church relations at Mississippi College, will present "With God on an Island," a slide show.

Any 4-H volunteer leader may participate in the workshop. To pre-register or for additional information, contact your county 4-H youth agent.

"Coq au Vin" translates literally from the French as "Rooster in Red Wine" and the reason is that this was originally a dish evolved by thrifty housewives of the French Countryside as a delicious way to cook until succulent and tender that old rooster who had outlived his usefulness in the barnyard. But with tender frying chickens around in such abundance these days, Coq au Vin is a matter of an hour or so instead of an all-day cooking effort, though there are still kitchen purists among us who insist upon the rooster or at least a fat stewing hen for their Coq au Vin.

Like most stews, this tastes even better when re-heated, so it's a good make-ahead dish, whether for company or just have on hand for that inevitable busy, busy day.

COQ AU VIN

1 fryer, about three pounds
12 small onions
8 oz. fresh mushrooms
1 bottle of domestic burgundy or other dry red wine (that's right, a whole bottle)
4 Tbsp butter mixed with 4 Tbsp. flour, kneaded into small balls
1/4 lb. slab bacon, diced, or a few slices of bacon, diced
1 jigger brandy
Salt, pepper, pinch of thyme
1 bay leaf
You could use regular onions, cut, in this dish, but the little creaming onions seem to give a special taste treat.

You could also add a bit of garlic (is there such a thing as a bit of garlic?) if you like. Melt about two tablespoons of butter in a heavy pot and fry the bacon pieces in this until they turn a bit golden. Remove then with a slotted spoon, of course, to reserve the butter, and brown the onions, remove them and add the mushrooms, cut in two, or in quarters if large.

When brown, remove add to the pot the chicken, cut in pieces as for frying.

When the chicken is slightly brown, take the pot off the fire, swiftly pour in the brandy and touch a match to it.

When the flames die down, return the bacon, onions and mushrooms to the pot, pour over enough of the wine to almost cover the entire ingredients, season with salt and pepper, thyme, and add the bay leaf.

Cover the pot tightly and simmer the chicken for about 45 minutes, or until fork tender. Then drop in the butter-flour mixture, a little at a time (this is the "Beurre manie" or kneaded butter and flour mixture, so much a part of French cuisine, just as the "roux" is so much a part of ours).

Stir a little, and please don't panic as those little white flecks come to the surface. They'll disappear as the sauce thickens slightly.

24. In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY

Leonard A. Strong
on his birthday, April 29
Our home is sad & lonely,
Our hearts are broken, too.
Since you were taken from us
My dear, how we miss you.
Sadly missed by Wife, children & grand-children

St. Rose Parish sets second 'Variety' show

By CATHERINE LIZANA
St. Rose de Lima Parish in Bay St. Louis will present Variety Show '80 Sunday at St. Augustine's Seminary gymnasium at 3 p.m.

An assortment of talents, local and professional, ranging from song and dance to oratorical drama will be featured.

"If this year's show compares in the least to last year's, it will prove to be an excellent mixture of talents and a very enjoyable afternoon for the entire family," according to Mrs. Joan Mitchum of Bay St. Louis, show coordinator.

Orchestra leader Leon Kelner and vocalist Darlene Greene are the featured out-of-town guests.

Kelner is making his second appearance in the St. Rose 'Variety' series which began last year. The parish had previously presented an annual 'extravaganza' of entertainment.

Special guests Bo and Dee, a multi-talented duo, have been performing together locally and abroad for more than 20 years.

"With a mixture of rhythm and blues, rock and jazz, their performance is well worth seeing," Ms. Mitchum stated.

A number of local performers and a few 'surprises' are promised by the show's producers, Ms. Mitchum added.

Tickets at $3 for adults and $1.50 for children are available from Mrs. Geraldine Lang, 467-9586; Mrs. Mitchem, 467-3839; or Father Bernard Keller, 467-7347.

Refreshments will be served during intermission.

USM sets Golden Eagle Weekend

Officials at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg have released a schedule for Golden Eagle Weekend, a three-day family oriented event for the alumni, students, faculty, staff and friends of USM.

The weekend will begin on April 25 with USM Awards Day. Ceremonies honoring outstanding students will begin at 10 a.m. in Bennett Auditorium.

An Awards Day luncheon will follow at noon in the University Commons. At 2 p.m. the Golden Eagle baseball team will play the University of Alabama and at 8 p.m. the long-awaited Willie Nelson Concert will begin.

Saturday's offerings include an outing for the children of members of USM's Heritage Club. A program of supervised games and activities including a hot dog roast will be held at Lake Sehay from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. The children, first graders and older, will be picked up and delivered at the Alumni House by members of the Intramural and Recreational Sports staff, sponsors of the activity.

The USM Black and Gold Spring Football Game will begin at 2 p.m. in M.M. Roberts Stadium. The intrasquad contest that is scheduled to conclude spring training will offer a preview of what can be expected from the Golden Eagles when they open their season against Tulane University on regional television Sept. 6, in the Louisiana Superdome.

The annual Sports Hall of Fame Banquet is set for 7:30 p.m. in the University Commons. Tickets to the event should be purchased in advance from the Athletic Ticket Office. Five former athletes and one former coach are slated for induction into the honorary organization.

On Sunday, the First Annual USM Community Day will begin at noon with a men's soccer game against Mississippi State. The USM women's team will play the Vicksburg women at 3 p.m. Both games will be played on the Sports Arena Field adjacent to Roberts Stadium. The day will continue with various activities including demonstrations, exhibits, displays, sports clinics, open houses and mini-lectures.

Community Day is a day for the entire family. Transportation plans have been made to accommodate a large crowd of friends and supporters of the University. Shuttle buses will travel from the Coliseum and Drivers Education parking lots, and pass through the campus every fifteen minutes from noon until 5 p.m.

Child care will be provided at no expense for persons wishing to attend any of the 30 events scheduled for the day. The service will be for infants to seven-year-olds.

"We wanted to save energy in our home... and we wanted expert advice."

"We found the answer when we called Mississippi Power Company. One of their trained energy specialists came to our home and made a free computerized Home Energy Analysis."

"He recommended the energy conservation improvements our home needed, estimated their cost, and showed us, on the spot, how we could save $94.00 the first year and recover our investment in only 4 1/2 years."

"Also, the energy specialist left us a copy of our energy analysis. Now, we have a helpful guide to plan our future home improvements to save energy... and money."

J. D. McCULLOUGH,

SUPERINTENDENT

as to assumptions made by the report dealing with the economic impact to some

dozen north Mississippi

counties if abandonment does result. The report contended that adjustments would have to be made by business and agricultural interests, but the economic importance of these were downplayed. Potential losses included those from wages, taxes, relocations of business operations, etc. Yet, one shipper representing a

Chicago based company stated that if his plant was denied rail service at its present location on the Bemis to Ackerman line, the company would shut down the Mississippi plant and relocate in another state.

The study recommended that the two north Mississippi branch lines be sold to other rail lines such as the locally operated Columbus and Greenville line, Southern, or Frisco. Or failing in obtaining a buyer from one of these nearby existing lines, the branch lines should be dismembered and sold in parts if certain segments can be made financially attractive to a buyer.

Other recommended courses of action were to seek extensions from the mentioned neighboring lines or the Mississippi and Scuna Valley line which hauls wood products nearby. Less used segments could be converted to side tracks or bought outright by shipping interests.

IOG could switch from a loss situation to a gain of about $15 million over the next 20 years,

Mennott said, by discontinuing service and selling the rail properties.

The spokesman added that the line to Coffeeville primarily is a wood products line that generates less revenue than other types of freight.

The point appeared well made that IOG is on the way out of the branch line business in Mississippi.

Further, doubts were raised as to assumptions made by the report dealing with the economic impact to some

dozen north Mississippi

counties if abandonment does

result. The report contended that adjustments would have to be made by business and

agricultural interests, but the economic importance of these

were downplayed. Potential

HOSPITAL FIREFIGHTERS—The Bay St. Louis Fire Department is instructing Hancock General Hospital personnel to use different types of firefighting equipment. Fire Chief Andrew Lizana said he will teach the course until all hospital employees are familiar with their hospital's fire evacuation plan and with firefighting equipment available at the facility in the event of a fire. Participating in a fire hose operation class are, from left, Lizana; Author Farve, Bay fireman; and Ula Mae Lindsey and Carrie Sprouse, hospital housekeeping aids. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Thigpen traversed 5th District announcing 1910 Census plans

By S.G. Thigpen

I was the census enumerator for Beat 5 in Jasper county in 1910.

Also, I did two weeks of preliminary work in the last half of March, 1910 in preparation for the census by going to every courthouse in the 5th Congressional District of Mississippi and posting signs announcing the time and purpose of the census.

I was lucky enough to get the two good jobs because my father was the supervisor of the census for the 5th Congressional District of Mississippi.

In 1910, it took me two weeks to do a job that could easily be done in a day or two now. There were no automobiles in those days and I had to do all my travelling by train or by horse drawn vehicles.

On a Monday morning nearest March 15th, I caught the early train going north to Newton on the MJ and KC Railway at Bay Springs in Jasper county.

At Newton I walked across to the A&V depot carrying my luggage and signs where after about an hour's wait I got on the train to Forrest, county seat of Scott County.

Arriving at Forrest, I checked into the little hotel right by the railway there. After the noon meal, I went to the courthouse carrying the signs with me and placed them on the bulletin board there.

I then went to the livery stable in Forrest and arranged for transportation to Carthage, the county seat of Leake county. I got up about daylight and walked to the livery stable where I found a horse and buggy with driver ready to start on the long, hard, over 20 mile trip to Carthage - an all day trip back then that can be made in about 20 minutes in a car now.

I was anxious to get to Carthage before the courthouse closed as I wanted to get an early start away from there the next morning without having to wait for the courthouse to open.

We arrived in Carthage in plenty time for me to attend to my business. We found a boarding house nearby where we spent that night. I paid my bill before going to bed as I wanted to get an early start back to Forrest next morning.

The friendly gray haired old lady, boarding housekeeper, had breakfast ready for us at day light.

The driver had gotten up early and fed his horse, so by sun up we were on the road back to Forrest, arriving there early Wednesday afternoon, in time to catch a train to Meridian, my next stop, where I spent the night.

The next morning, Thursday morning, I went early to the courthouse there and tacked up my signs. I then went to the depot and caught an M&O train north to Decatur, county seat of Newton County. Decatur was not on the main line of the railroad and all passenger trains had to switch off for several miles to the northeast and then back out to the main line.

To accomodate me, the train conductor told me that if I would hurry and not take too much time he would hold the train for me until I could go to the Decatur courthouse and do my job. I hurried and got through quickly thus keeping from having to stay over night there.

My next stop was at Philadelphia, county seat of Neshoba county. After tending to my business in Philadelphia, I stayed in the hotel there until next morning.

About mid morning on Tuesday I got on a train for Louisville, Winston county seat. The train for some reason was delayed and I did not get to Louisville until after the courthouse had closed. Early Wednesday morning, I went back to the courthouse in time to catch an early train south and to home.

On Thursday of that week I rode from Bay Springs in a buggy to Raleigh, county seat of Smith county. I visited the courthouse, put up the census notices and returned home that day.

The next day, Friday, I went the 19 miles to Paulding, the 2nd county seat of Jasper county. I spent that night in the home of an uncle who lived nearby.

My first job completed, I started on my second one, which was taking the census in Beat 5 of Jasper county. I went to every inhabited place in this beat over the next 30 days.

It was a great experience. I travelled in a buggy pulled by a big bay mare. As distances were too far to drive back and forth, I carried with me a noon lunch.

I went home nights except in a few instances when I was working too far away, in which cases I spent the night with people I had gone to see.

I found some situations and conditions that were sad and others that were hilarious.

Three of the nights I spent away from home were spent in the home of a first cousin of mine, Mrs. Ena Jenkins.

She and her husband took a big interest in helping me and were much interested in my accounts of interviewing some of their neighbors.

The form used in the 1910 census was all on one page with a dozen or so questions to be asked, and room at the bottom of the page for names of the people.

This simple, practical form was in no way like the long complicated ones for 1980.

CANCER Answerline

American Cancer Society

Question: "I came across the term, 'Black Cancer,' in a book. What kind of cancer is that?"

ANSWERline: "Black Cancer" is an old term referring to what we know as melanoma, a rare but usually very malignant form of skin cancer. It was called "black" cancer because of the black color of the pigmented areas of the skin affected, although melanoma may also be red or other colors. Malignant melanoma may or may not be related to overexposure to sun. Unlike common sun-caused skin cancers, melanoma spreads quickly and can be fatal if not treated promptly. Anyone who notices an unusual spot, mole or other growth, especially if it changes in size, color or consistency, should see a physician.

Question: "Why is it that fewer people are smoking and more people are getting lung cancer?"

ANSWERline: The reason for these opposing trends is that today's lung cancer is not caused by today's smoking. Lung cancer takes a long time to develop—often 20 to 30 years. So the lung cancer that people get today is largely the result of decades of smoking before the current decline began.

Mary Beth Waits named Miss OLA

Mary Beth Waits, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waits of Pass Christian, was named Miss OLA at Our Lady's Academy's Spring Ball March 28 in the academy gymnasium.

The ball was an annual event honoring the 38 seniors of 1980.

Ms. Waits was voted by the student body as best exemplifying the spirit of Our Lady's Academy.

Other classmates honored include Most Athletic - Theresa Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan of Bay St. Louis; Most Courteous - Delarie Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Ladner of DeLisle; Most Likely to be Missed - Shelly Stewart, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Worley Stewart of Pass Christian; Most Likely to Succeed - Lauri Wood, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Wood of Pass Christian; Most Mischievous - Leslie Furman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Furman of Diamondhead; Most School Spirit - Stacie Comeaux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Comeaux of Waveland.

The evening began as each senior was presented and escorted by her father.

A list of accomplishments, hobbies and future plans were recognized. Entertainment was provided by the sophomore class of OLA, and the theme "Reflections" was incorporated, giving a short review of the seniors' past years attending the Academy. After the awards were presented, seniors then danced with their fathers and a reception followed.

Book Review

A CHOICE OF CATASTROPHES by Isaac Asimov. A simov again succeeds in transforming complex scientific theories into fascinating and informative entertainment in this exploration of disasters that threaten our world.

PRUNING by Christopher Brickell. A useful and comprehensive guide to pruning roses, evergreens, hedges, bushes, vines, fruit trees, and every other plant to perfection.

THE RIGHT STUFF by Tom Wolfe. This book presents the astronauts as full-blooded human beings, giving their triumphs a dimension that raises them above the technological. In the process, the adventure itself - a man's attempt to explore his galaxy - comes alive for the first time.

PARLOR GAMES by Robert Marasco. Set in a world of glamorous, gifted, intelligent people, this novel is a psychological drama about the close and sinister relationship between Maggie Newman and Peter and Gail, a brother and sister whose love, when threatened, degenerates into possessiveness and then darkest evil.

SUCH INTERESTING PEOPLE by Margaret Culkin Banning. The story of a lovely mountain town in North Carolina and the people who come there to enjoy its "specialness," only to eventually try to change it into what they had left behind.

A STENCH OF POPPIES by Ivor Drummond. A new strain of poppy seed is sold to Turkish growers and the resulting opium has startling effects. A trio of crime-fighters must save one of the number from execution, the other two from murder, and countless thousands of unsuspecting people from hideous death.

THE THIRD IDENTITY by Rosemary Gatenby. The

Sports figure Michael Burke and author William Styron spoke recently to Students at The University of Mississippi as part of the Willie Morris Visiting Lectureship. Burke, president of Madison Square Garden as well as the New York Knicks and Rangers, was a close friend of Ernest Hemingway. He discussed Hemingway and other writers, as well as his involvement in the national sports world. Styron, author of the best-selling novel "Sophie's Choice," read from his work and answered questions from the audience. He won the Pulitzer Prize for his 1968 novel, "The Confessions of Nat Turner," and has also written "Set This House on Fire," "Lie Down in Darkness," "The Long March" and "Shadrach."
